The World's Greatest Slave.

Aesop probably is one of the most noted slaves that ever lived. The fables and stories he told have delighted mankind for twenty-five hundred years, and there is no telling how much longer the world will continue to enjoy them. Aesop was so deformed that for a long time his Greek master could not sell him. Finally he was sold, and the master found him so wise that he was set free.

Br'er Fox Again.

"A fox which was hard pressed by the Essex Union Hounds entered a house in High street, Billerica, and bolted upstairs into a bedroom. When found," says Punch, "he pretended to be a wolf rehearsing 'Red Riding Hood' for a cinematograph show, but his tale was cut short."

Make No Excuses.

We can wrest success from any failure and take from it much of the sting when we frankly admit that it was our fault, and that we have no excuse to offer, while at the same time we express our purpose not to fail in that way again. The world is quick to forgive the man who does not ask to be excused. God can forgive us on no other terms; and God's forgiveness is the only way to assure victory over failure.—The Sunday School Times.

MORE STOVE HEAT FOR LESS MONEY

That's the nub of the whole house-heating question. When you buy a heating stove you want one that will consume the least amount of fuel, give out the greatest amount of heat, hold fire, prevent the formation of clinkers, have a handsome, clean cut, well-made appearance, and last a life-time, sound and good.

Then Buy a Genuine Round Oak Stove

The stove that has made good on every one of the above tests for forty years.

It defies the coldest, stormiest weather, making the whole room warm and comfortable with any kind of fuel.

The Round Oak has nearly twice the efficiency of others with the same amount of fuel. You'll notice that big saving on your monthly fuel bill.

There are other heating stoves that have the word "Oak" as a part of the name. There is only one genuine Round Oak stove. We handle it and shall be glad to explain its many exclusive features to you any time you call.
